Carla Aly

Arlington, VA 22203

Dear Ms. Aly:

As Robert Frost's neighbor says in Frost's poem Mending Wall, good fences make good neighbors. In the poem, Frost questioned his neighbor's maxim, commenting:

"Why do they make good neighbours? Isn't it

Where there are cows? But here there are no cows. ..."

In the ASRC's case, there seem to have been some cows; and a good fence, or in this case a good disciplinary policy which helps set the boundaries for behavior between members and Groups, makes those ASRC members and Groups better neighbors.

Your expertise and help in amending the ASRC's disciplinary policy – and major portions of the ASRC's administrative policies as well – we greatly value.

On behalf of all the members and Groups of the ASRC, I would like to extend our appreciation for your time and effort. This makes our organization stronger, and a stronger ASRC is better able to save lives in the outdoors.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Keith Conover, M.D., FACEP, ASRC Chair

Dear Mr. Benson:

As Robert Frost's neighbor says in Frost's poem Mending Wall, good fences make good neighbors. In the poem, Frost questioned his neighbor's maxim, commenting:

"Why do they make good neighbours? Isn't it

Where there are cows? But here there are no cows. ..."

Your expertise and help in amending the ASRC's disciplinary policy – even if just keeping an eye on it and making sure we didn't make any egregious mistakes – we greatly value.

On behalf of all the members and Groups of the ASRC, I would like to extend our appreciation for your time and effort. This makes our organization stronger, and a stronger ASRC is better able to save lives in the outdoors.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Keith Conover, M.D., FACEP, ASRC Chair
