All,

I am excited about the upcoming retreat and about the ASRC. For forty years, the ASRC has been dedicated to helping the lost person. Over that time we have brought children back to their parents. We have brought parents back to their children. We have seen joy when loved ones are returned alive and we have seen grief when the outcome has not been as good. We have laughed together and we have cried together. We have had disagreements amongst ourselves. But we have never lost sight of our true mission. Over forty years the tools, techniques and the political environments that we deal with have changed. The ASRC has always been on the leading edge, driving that change. This retreat is where we, as the leaders of this great organization, get to set the direction of the ASRC.

We have a great deal of ground to cover in the two days we will be together, so please take a little time to prepare. It would be helpful if you could review the documents included in this package and review the material referenced in the Session 4 description.

This organization, your organization, is forty years old and you should be proud! See you on Saturday!
